Crosby, Count Torgler, of the Austrian Embassy; Mr. Ritchie Simpkins, Mr. Andrews and Mr. Haydon, both of Boston; Capt. Gulick and Mr. Cresson.

Miss Jean Wilson has returned to the city after a stay of some weeks in Atlantic City. While at the resort Miss Wilson met with great success with her "Evening of Song and Story."

The second of the Bachelors' Cotillions of the season took place last evening in the ballroom of the New Willard Hotel. The hall was a yellow one, the decorations, favors, and supper appointments all being of that color. The Baroness Hengelmueller, wife of the Austrian Ambassador, received the guests at 10 o'clock and the cotillion began at 10:30 o'clock. Supper was served in the adjoining ballroom at small tables, at midnight. The favors for the young women were of yellow dress sachet hangers, transparent lamp shades of pale yellow showing quaint designs, and yellow pompadour silk bags. Those for the men were brass letter files, brass stamp boxes, and waltz tobs. The favors for the flower girls were of yellow carnations and roses. The Marine Band played for the dancing.

Among the guests were Miss Ethel Roosevelt, Earl of Granard and Lady Granard, Representative and Mrs. Longworth, Mrs. Frederick Vanderbilt and Miss Martha McCook, of New York; Mrs. Russell B. Harrison, Miss Martha Harrison, and the dinner guests of the French Ambassador and Mme. Jusserand, the German Ambassador and Countess Bernstorff, Mrs. Richard Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Simpkins, and Miss Cockrell.

Miss Marie Blanche Thysen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hermann G. Thysen, was married yesterday, at 5 o'clock, to Lieut. William Sloan Harrison, United States Marine Corps. It was an extremely pretty home wedding, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Eugene A. Hanan, a close personal friend of the bride's family, in the drawing-room of the Thysen residence. The witnesses were the immediate members of the families of the contracting parties and a few close personal friends.

The entire lower floor was decorated with palms and cut flowers, chiefly white roses. The bride entered the drawing-room on the arm of her father, to the strains of the "Wedding Chorus," from "Lohengrin." The bride, a handsome brunette, wore an imported robe of pale sapphire marquisette with lace yoke and long sleeves, and carried a shower bouquet of violets and lilies-of-the-valley. The bridegroom wore the full service uniform of his rank in the Marine Corps. The bride's mother was gowned in black lace over black. Miss Thysen, the bride's sister, wore a directoire gown of white and blue gauze, and carried white violets. Miss Grace Thysen, twin sister of the bride, wore green messaline, and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. Supper was served after the ceremony, during which the bride cut the wedding cake with her husband's sword. The bride is a granddaughter of the late Paulus Thysen, who came to Washington from Holland in 1823, and a great-granddaughter of the late Thomas Corwell, a well-known family of Baltimore. The bridegroom is a son of William C. Harrison, a business man of Spartanburg, S. C., and a grandson of the late Dr. William A. Harrison, of the class of '45 at the University of Pennsylvania. Lieut. Harrison, who is well known in Washington, was recently appointed a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps. Lieut. and Mrs. Harrison left Washington on a late train for Spartanburg to visit the parents of the bridegroom for two weeks before going to the naval station, Port Royal, S. C., where Lieut. Harrison has been assigned. The bride wore a traveling gown of blue broadcloth and hat to match, with pale blue plumes. She wore lynx furs.

Mrs. Marie McMillan Brown, daughter of Mrs. Nell S. Brown and grandniece of Dolly Madison, entertained at luncheon yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Martha Cameron, whose engagement to the Hon. Ronald Lindsay, son of the

CONCERT IS ENJOYED

The Rubinstein Club Delights Audience at Arlington.

ENSEMBLE WORK IS PERFECT

Conductor, Mrs. A. M. Blair. Has Singers Under Perfect Control, and Much Temperament and Warmth of Color Are Shown—Soloists Give Charming Numbers—Many Encores.

The Rubinstein Club, Mrs. A. M. Blair, conductor, gave its second concert in the ballroom of the Arlington Hotel last night before a brilliant audience which filled the room, many standing throughout the very interesting programme. The concert was a complimentary one to the associate members and their friends, and the friends of the seventy women singers who form this wonderfully successful club.

The club was assisted by Miss Isabel Buchanan, soprano, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Bart Wirtz, violinist, of the Peabody Conservatory of Music, of Baltimore. Mrs. W. Sinclair Bowen, of this city, was at the piano, with the soloists, and the accompaniments for the club were played by Mrs. Ramsdell.

Critical Audience.

It is not often that a more critical audience is gathered together in Washington, and the pronounced approval and enthusiasm showed the firm hold this infant club has gained upon the music-loving public here.

It is less than a year old, and has a membership of seventy-two active singers, all soloists, and an equally large associate membership, with a large number of instrumentalists, who are honorary members.

Mrs. Blair has already received pronounced recognition as a conductor, and last night was given an ovation. For musical ability, rare good taste, magnetism, and intelligence, Mrs. Blair has few equals.

The club sang as one voice, their attacks, shading, tone, quality, and response to their conductor's every motion being remarkable, and resulting in superb effects.

One very commendable part in the singing is the perfect enunciation of the large chorus, scarcely a word being lost, even in the remote corners of the large ballroom.

Makes Pronounced Hit.

Miss Buchanan made a pronounced hit with her audience. She has a lyric voice of delightful quality, under splendid control, with good sustaining power. She has a pure, round tone, which is particularly clear and bell-like in the "upper register. She sang "Dieu Teure Halle," from "Tannhauser," with good dramatic effect and breadth of style. All of her smaller songs were delightfully done, and her interpretations showed appreciation and intelligence. The accompaniments were skillfully played by Mrs. Bowen.

Miss Buchanan was obliged to give another number after her four songs in her second number, and sang a charming old Scotch song with much skill, and she played her own accompaniment charmingly.

Mr. Wirtz, a cellist with much talent and cultivation, gave the instrumental lovers a genuine treat with his splendid
